Dry Comfort, Anytime

By Aureta®

The innovative Reticulation open cell foam

Aureta DryFoam is an open-cell polyurethane foam specifically designed for outdoor cushions and marine cushions. It offers the perfect combination of comfort, durability, and functionality, its output and extreme comfort will revolutionize its use and options in outdoor products.

Anti Odor

Anti Bacterial

Easy to Dry

With its open-cell foam structure, Aureta DryFoam is produced using high-quality materials and advanced reticulation technology to open the foam's pores. This unique structure allows for optimal air circulation and quick drying after exposure to water, reducing the risk of water accumulation that causes moisture in the cushions and preventing the growth of bacteria, mold, and unpleasant odors. Aureta DryFoam features excellent water drainage, ensuring comfort, cleanliness, and is free from harmful chemicals, making it healthy and environmentally friendly.

Easy to clean and easy to maintain.

It's easy to clean and maintenance-free, with added protection against bacteria, mold, and odors. Aureta DryFoam is the perfect solution for various outdoor product and marine cushion applications, providing unmatched comfort, durability, and reliability.

Revolutionizes its use and options in outdoor products.

Aureta DryFoam offers maximum comfort with good elasticity, UV resistance, and resistance to rain and temperature changes, making it ideal for various weather conditions. It has a long lifespan and is highly durable, even with frequent daily use.
